

OFF SITE MODULAR ROOM AND POD MANUFACTURING FIRM
PANALOC MOVES TO EAST YORKSHIRE

20th February 2009

Panaloc Worldwide Manufacturing Ltd ("Panaloc") plans to relocate its operations to East Yorkshire, buoyed by an influx in sales opportunities

Panaloc specialises in the high-tech modular manufacturing of off-site rooms and pods which are made to stretching environmental standards.

Panaloc's methodology has seen significant success with customers from Heathrow's Terminal 5 to hospital projects in Merseyside.

The company's principal new investor, Sixis Group, is supporting the company's relocation from its previous Salford base into a modern 100,000 square foot factory in East Yorkshire.

Panaloc's innovative products and cutting edge design technologies are revolutionising the construction industry and this coupled with the company's methodology of design and manufacturing bring substantial financial and environmental savings. Limited only by the imagination of the developer, the flexible Panaloc product provides an effective solution to the construction industry's challenges of cost, time and risk management.

Panaloc has benefited from certain aspects of the construction downturn. Given its focus on cost and innovation, the firm has seen a rising demand from hotel groups, housing associations, providers of student accommodation and developers of detention cells and prisons. The company's goal now is to secure 10% of the volumetric modular market.

By moving to East Yorkshire, Panaloc will be improving the product offering further, particularly by cutting out certain elements of the supply chain, and the company will also benefit from the complementary local skill base with a potential for creating up to 100 jobs to the East Yorkshire area.
